

Mike Miller

Mike Miller is a member of the Washington Grain Commission (WGC), representing wheat producers in Adams, Chelan, Douglas, Grant and Okanogan counties.

Miller is a fourth generation farmer who farms in the Ritzville/Odessa area. Primarily a summer fallow farmer in a nine to ten inch rainfall area, he also has 500 acres of irrigated ground near Ralston where he grows chickpeas, bluegrass, and potatoes among other rotations.

He serves as the Lincoln/Adams county representative on the Washington State Crop Improvement Association Board. He is a member of the National Wheat Improvement Committee and sits on Washington State University's Variety Release Committee.